VOL. LXXXIV. CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1911. NO. 3.

Telephone Meeting.

The Patrons Rural Telephone Company held its annual meeting in Bellefonte, at the Garman House, Thursday of last week. Hon. Leonard Rhone, president; Willard Dale, vice president; D. M. Campbell, treasurer and S. W. Smith, secretary, were re-elected. The company is incorporated, and has in its system twelve branch companies, the lines of which extend to the Bell exchanges in Bellefonte, State College, Centre Hall and Spring Mills. In all there are about two hundred and twenty-five telephones under the system. The plan has been giving the best of satisfaction.

Local Institute.

Centre Hall borough, Potter township and Harris township have been made a district for local institute work. The institute will be held in Centre Hall, Saturday, February 4th. The committee is made up of the following teachers: H. M. Hosterman, Boalsburg, chairman, D. Ross Bushman, Centre Hall, and Elmer Miller, Tusseyville.

Mrs. W. L. Campbell, of Coburn, was in town on Wednesday.

James Runkle, of Centre Hall was in town on Monday.

Mrs. Warren Wood has been ill for a few days.

The oyster supper held by the Rebekahs on Saturday evening was a success; they contemplate holding another in the near future.

W. M. Grove went to Stone Valley on Monday to survey.

Mrs. William Guisewite and daughter, Mrs. Wyle and Miss Brown, all of Aaronsburg, attended the supper on Saturday evening.

Those who attended the Woodman banquet at Millheim on Friday evening were Dr. H. S. Braucht and wife, W. O. Gramley and wife, John Meyer and brother William, and Austin Long, of this place; Frank Fisher, wife and daughter; William Sinkabine wife and daughter, and Miss Maude Corman, of Penn Hall.

The financial committee of the Centre County Pomona Grange met on Monday at the home of Hon. Leonard Rhone, in Centre Hall, to audit the accounts of the officers of the County Grange and those of the officers of the Patrons Rural Telephone Company. The auditors present were David K. Keller and D. L. Bartges, of Centre Hall, Samuel Corl, of State College, being absent.

The Millheim school board has already secured a new principal to take the place of Prof. Toole, who resigned to go to Bellefonte. Millheim's new man is Prof. Robert S. App, of Selinsgrove, and he came with splendid recommendations to begin his work on Wednesday morning.

Bell telephone subscribers may telephone their telegrams to the Western Union Telegraph Company's offices and have bills rendered by the Telegraph Company.

Have you a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You cannot begin treatment too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the outset you will be saved much trouble. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

Read the advertisement of C. D. Bartholomew if you are interested in the laying hen, or intend raising poultry next year.

Agricultural Meetings.

A series of public farmers meetings have been arranged for Centre county by the County Grange, covering a period of two weeks, beginning Monday evening, January 30th, and continuing until Saturday evening, February 11th. The speakers will be Mr. John McSparren, of Lancaster; Hon. William L. Creasy, Master of the State Grange, and others, whose names will be announced as soon as definitely known. LOCALS.

The Camp Candy Company, of Tyrone, is in the hands of a receiver.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hosterman, of near Centre Hill.

Shoes—the best makes for men, women, misses and children; also for school boys—Kreamer & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Miles, of Port Matilda, are at the home of their daughter, Mrs. George O. Benner, in Centre Hall.

Keep in mind the public sale in Centre Hall advertised by Rev. Daniel Gress. Two driving horses, hay, etc., will be sold.

Mrs. Lillie Alexander closed her home in Centre Hall for the winter, and until spring will be at the home of her brother, Hon. W. M. Allison, at Spring Mills.

J. A. Reesman, has been confined to his home since returning from a visit to New Jersey. He is very much better now and is expecting to be able to attend to business regularly within a few days.

Mrs. Ammon Burkholder expects to go to Phillipsburg, where her husband is employed, and during her stay there, Mrs. A. E. Person will come to Centre Hall to be with her father, James B. Strohm.

Hon. Wm. M. Allison and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, the former of Spring Mills, and the latter of Penn Hall, were in town on business last week. Both are interested in the Penns Valley Banking Company and it was business with that institution that brought them here.

J. R. Lemon, of Gatesburg, announces himself a candidate for the office of county commissioner. He is a veteran of the civil war and has the distinction of having been the youngest man in his regiment who carried a gun. He enlisted in 1861 and served until the close of the war.

A. C. Mingle has had plans prepared for a row of brick houses he will build the coming summer on Logan street, between Spring and Allegheny streets, Bellefonte, says the Watchman. The houses will contain five or six rooms and a bath and be modern in every way, and will be for renting purposes.

William D. Strunk will turn farmer next spring, having leased the Benner farm, immediately east of the old Fort. He has been living in Centre Hall since the sale of the Rishel farm, at the Stone Mill, to H. E. Shirk, on which farm he was tenant. During the past few years, Mr. Strunk and his son, W. Oliver Strunk, have been engaged in the threshing business.

From the Gazette: On Monday Miss Carrie Miller, who for some time past has been the clerk at M. C. Gephart's music store, accepted the position of clerk at the Index, for Mr. Hunter, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Lela Ardery. Miss Miller's place in G. W. Hall's and Mr. Gephart's store has been filled by Miss Helen Bair.

The Farmer's Mutual Fire Insurance Company, also known as the Centre Hall company, organized by electing H. E. Duck, of Millheim, president; James B. Strohm, Centre Hall, vice president; J. R. Brungart, Rebersburg, treasurer, and D. F. Luse, Centre Hall, secretary. The other directors are W. Fred Reynolds, J. B. Goheen, F. M. Fisher, R. H. Reed, Frank McFarlane, Z. D. Thomas, J. H. Beck, C. T. Gentzell and G. B. Haines.

The borough council passed its first ordinance, on the sixth instant, since the beginning of 1900. This ordinance refers to the organization of a board of health, giving in a brief way the rules governing the same. There is probably no body, not even excepting a school board, that has more powers than a board of health. It must oftimes take measures for the benefit of the public health that are not clearly defined by law, yet their acts will be, or at least always have been, sanctioned by the courts.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Susan Kreamer, widow of Jonathan Kreamer, of Millheim, died at the home of her daughter, Alice, wife of F. P. Musser, in Millheim, on Monday morning. Interment will be made this (Thursday) morning, in the old cemetery, in Millheim, Rev. J. W. Dice, pastor of the United Evangelical church officiating. Had she lived until next month, Mrs. Kreamer would have attained the age of eighty-seven years.

Mrs. Kreamer was next to the youngest in the family of John Strohm, and was born in Lebanon county. She accompanied the family to Centre county 1835, at which time her father came to Centre Hill, locating on the Burkholder farm. But one member of this family remains, namely, Mrs. Lydia Meyer, of Aaronsburg, who is the youngest of the family. The brothers and sisters who are dead are these: Jonathan and Henry, who went to Illinois in 1840; Mariah, wife of Peter Albright, Mifflin county; Michael, Centre Hill; Jacob, Tusseyville; John, who died when a young man.

The children surviving Mrs. Kreamer are these: Alfred F. Kreamer, Alice, wife of F. P. Musser; Emma, wife of A. A. Frank, Millheim; Mrs. Mary Miller, State College; John Kreamer, Harrisburg; Mrs. Cora Bowman, Oakland, California; Emanuel, deceased.

On account of her advanced age, Mrs. Kreamer had been in delicate health for some years, and during the past few years, she had been almost blind. Since her daughter, Mrs. Miller, moved from State College, she made her home with another daughter, Mrs. Musser, who kindly cared for her.

Cyrus Nathaniel Philips died at his home in Madisonburg on Sunday morning, 7th instant. About a week previous he was taken ill with pneumonia, but was much better on Saturday evening. Early Sunday morning he was stricken with paralysis and kept growing weaker until the final summons came, about two hours later.

Mr. Philips was married three times; first to Kate Weaver, daughter of Aaron Weaver, of Aaronsburg. To this union were born two children, William E, who is living on his father's farm, and Mrs. Earl Ritters, of Washington, D. C. In 1883 he was married to Lucy Weagely. To this union were born ten children. The surviving are Mrs. L. H. Duck, of Centre Hall; Bessie, Maggie, Bertha, at home; Nelson, Earl, Clarence, Cleon, and Elmer. The latter is seriously ill with pneumonia at the home of Oscar Homan. In 1907 he was married to Susan Long, widow of Daniel Long, who also survives, together with two brothers and four sisters, all in the west except Henry, of Aaronsburg.

Mr. Philips was born January 12, 1853. Had he lived to the day he was buried, he would have been just fifty-eight years of age. Interment took place Thursday of last week, in the Reformed cemetery at Madisonburg.

Mrs. Lucy A. Harter, widow of the late David Harter, died on Friday, January 6th, at the old homestead in Marion township, now occupied by her son, C. M. Harter and family.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Zimmerman and was born in Union county, being seventy-six years, two months and three days old. She is survived by two children, C. M. Harter, of Marion township, and Mrs. Koontz, wife of Rev. S. E. Koontz, of Winfield, Union county County Commissioner H. E. Zimmerman, is a brother, and Mrs. W. B. Thomas, of Milesburg, is a sister of the deceased.

William Henry died at Pine Grove Mills, aged sixty-four years. He was born in Lewistown. A second wife survives, her maiden name being Elizabeth Ward. The following children mourn his death: Samuel, of Altoona; John, of Holidaysburg; William and Elmer, of Bellwood, these being children of his first wife; and by the last union there are Mrs. George Reed, of Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Bessie Grubb, of Bellefonte, and Leroy, at home with one adopted son, Sherman.

At the age of almost eighty-three years, Mrs. Maria Goss, widow of Samuel Goss, died at the home of her son, William Goss, in Pine Grove Mills, on the 9th inst. She was the daughter of David Harpster, being the last of nine brothers and sisters to survive. A daughter, Mrs. Sadie Bell, of Spruce Creek, and the son named above survive.

Andrew A. Walker died at the home of his son in Clearfield. He was aged seventy-three years and was born in this county. He lived in Bellefonte for a long while, and from there moved to Jeanette. Interment was made in Bellefonte.

Surprise Party.

Jonas Boal, of Potters Mills, was taken by surprise on the evening of the eleventh. F. A. Carson detained him at his store until the friends had possession of his home. When Mr. Boal got home and stepped into the room, he was hoisted in good style, it being his thirty-seventh birthday. Music and refreshments were furnished, and all enjoyed themselves very much; the participants were:

W. M. Sweeney, Thomas Boal, E. B. Palmer, F. A. Carson, J. M. Carson, and their families, John Wilkinson, J. F. Miller, W. W. McCormick, Thos. Palmer, accompanid by their wives; G. H. McCormick, Harry Wilkinson, T. E. Palmer, Misses Caroline McCloskey, Bertha Armstrong, Lizzie Slack, Sallie Mandis, Alice Decker, Annie Parker—in all forty-one persons.

Try our brands of coffee; we grind it while you wait—Kreamer & Son.

LOCALS.

Candies, pure and wholesome; fresh and clean—Kreamer & Son.

Stuart Jordan, of near Colyer, lost a valuable horse by death, a short time ago.

Before the stock is exhausted it will be to your interest to get prices on winter weight underwear at the Kreamer & Son store.

Morris Fromm has leased the store room adjoining the Centre Hall hotel, just completed, and has opened a clothing store in it.

Centre County Pomona Grange meets in Centre Hall today (Thursday.) It will be one of the important meetings of that order during the year.

James B. Strohm is taking a new treatment, and he and his family are very hopeful of good results. It is but a week since the treatment began, yet there is a noticable improvement.

The next number of the Centre Hall lecture course will appear one day earlier than scheduled on the course tickets. The lecture will be Wednesday evening, February 8th. Frederick Hopkins is the lecturer.

The time for the annual meeting of the Farmer's National Bank of Millheim has been changed from the second Tuesday of January to last Saturday of that month. The former board of directors was reelected. J G. Eby also continues as cashier.

The thaw and rain, last week, gave Lock Haven and vicinity much trouble, and there was considerable loss of property. Sunday morning the formidable ice jam wedged against the New York Central railroad bridge, near Pine Station, gave way thus averting a calamity in that section similar to the deluge of 1889.

The roads being unsuited for automobiling, T. D. Parker accompanied by R. L. Struble, of Bellefonte, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday in a carriage and from here to Spring Mills in quest of pleasure. The former is employed in the mechanical department of the Democratic Watchman, and the latter is engaged in teaching school near Bellefonte.

Ex-Sheriff Cyrus Brungart, as president of the Centre County Fruit Growers Association, in this issue announces the first meeting of the body to be held at Spring Mills, Saturday, 21st. The principal speaker will be Prof. H. A. Surface, Economic Zoologist, State Department of Agriculture, whose subject will be "Planting and Culture of Fruit."

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They do the work whenever you require their aid. These tablets change weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness. Their action is so gentle one don't realize they have taken a purgative. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

There was a decided change in the temperature between Saturday evening, when it was fifty two degrees, and Sunday evening, at which time mercury dropped to twenty-eight, and during the night to twelve. The tender wheat plants, growing under the conditions of a few days previous, were subjected to the radical change under conditions not at all favorable, but it is hoped there will be no serious injury.

The McMurray heirs sold two tracts of land from their farm, east of Centre Hall, to Emanuel Eungard and Emanuel Rachau. The former purchased one hundred and ten acres, the price being about $3350, and the latter twelve acres, including a tenement house, for $600. The farm yet contains one hundred and eighty-two acres, which, it is said, can be purchased for $7000. Dr. McCormick, of Hublersburg, is seriously considering the purchase of the farm as it now stands, according to reports.

At the regular annual meeting of the Centre county medical society, held in the arbitration room at the court house on Wednesday morning of last week the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. P. Hoffer Dale, of State College; first vice president, Dr. E. A. Russell, of Unionville; second vice president, Dr. R. V. Foster, of Centre Hall; secretary, Dr. R. G. H. Hayes, of Bellefonte, and treasurer, Dr. George F. Harris, of Bellefonte.

S. Reid Harnish, poultryman of Alexandria, was in Centre Hall, Friday and Saturday, and spent his entire time on Kerlins Grand View Poultry Farm. Mr. Harnish had been in the poultry business in the great Petaluma egg section in California, the greatest egg producing section in the world, and says he has not seen stock as fine in California as he finds on Kerlins Grand View Poultry Farm, and before leaving, placed an order with the Kerlins for feed, brooders and 1000 day-old chicks from their great egg-laying strain of S. C. W. Leghorns.

GOOD WAY TO DO BUSINESS.

Murray & Bitner Sell Reliable Remedy at Half-Price and Guarantee a Cure.

When one can buy gold dollars for fifty cents, it is a good time to purchase.

In ordering a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at 25 cents, Murray and Bitner are giving one of the greatest trade chances ever offered to the people of Centre Hall.

Even though offered at half price for introductory purposes that the specific is sold under a guarantee to cure or the money will be refunded.

If food does not digest well, if there is gas or pain in the stomach, if the tongue is coated and the breath bad, if there is constipation and straining, Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not, you have druggists Murray and Bitner's personal guarantee to return your money.

Dr. Howard's specific gives quick relief and makes permanent cures on constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles.

These are strong statements, but Murray and Bitner are giving their customers a chance to prove their truth at just half the regular price—sixty doses for 25 cents. If they are not found true, all you have to do is to ask for your money.

Birthday Surprise Party.

Tuesday evening of last week was a birthday anniversary for Harvey Mark, east of Centre Hall. A number of friends and relatives gathered at the home of William Homan, a neighbor, and from there went to the Mark home, giving him a surprise. A number of presents, among which was a Morris chair, were presented. Mrs. Mark served oysters and other refreshments. The guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mark, Mr. and Mrs. William Feidler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver and daughter Oraline, Albert, Andy and Lola Mark, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Goodhart and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jamison and children, Mr. and Mrs. William Homan and children, Mrs. Eliza Stump, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Stump, Mr. and Mrs. John Heckman, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin, Arney, Mr. and Mrs. Abner Alexander and son, Cora Boal, Margaret and Frank Goodhart, Mr. and Mrs. David Keller and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Royer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fye and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Poorman and children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Homan and son, Vera, Lulu, and John Homan, Calvin Lingle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stover.

Fruit Grower's Meeting.

The first annual meeting of the Fruit Growers Association of Centre county will be held at Spring Mills, Saturday, January 21st. There will be two sessions, the morning session opening at 9:30 o'clock. Prof. Surface will be present and talk on planting and culture of fruit.

An invitation is extended to the public in general.

CYRUS BRUNGART, Pres.

Rebersburg.

Mrs. Monasses Gilbert is on the sick list at present.

G. P. Garrett has the contract to build Rev. Bierly's house, in west Rebersburg.

Mr. Leopold, of Sugar Valley, is spending part of this week with relatives in town.

Frank Waite is making preparation to build a new carpenter shop. He says the repair business is booming since he is grandpa.

On last Friday night some sneak thief stole a fine and valuable lap robe from the sleigh owned by Allen Guisewite. Strong suspicion rests on a certain fellow, and we would advise him to return the same at once.

Levi Wance is at present employed at State College as head butcher for S. M. Kimport.

The series of meetings held last week in the Lutheran church by Rev. Whitman were well attended and the able sermons were highly appreciated.

Texas fever continues to spread in this vicinity, and before spring comes your correspondent will be able to mention several more families pulling up stakes and emigrating to Texas.

Charles Stover, of Aaronsburg, spent a short time in town last Monday.

Tusseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wagner and daughters Edna and Mary entertained the following persons at their home on Thursday evening: Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rockey and daughters, Myra, Margaretta, and Ruth; Mrs. William Bitner and daughters, Ida and Esther; Mrs. Mariah Wagner, Miss Mary Weaver, Bernice Swartz, and Mrs. Ezra Ripka and children.

John Wert and family spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Rossman.

Mrs. William Bitner and daughters, Elizabeth and Esther, spent Wednesday at the home of William Bower and family.

The Colyer telephone company, known as Branch Company No. 19, who own the lines 20 and 33, held their annual banquet at the home of Harry McClellan on Thursday evening of last week. All report having had a jolly good time.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a very valuable medicine for throat and lung troubles, quickly relieves and cures painful breathing and a dangerous sounding cough which indicates congested lungs. Sold by Murray & Bitner.

The reader is referred to the advertisement of Morris Fromm, clothier, who opened a store in Centre Hall. He advertises sale to continue for fifteen days.

With a view of leaving Millheim and locating in South Dakota, Mrs. Annie E. Swartz sold her land in that borough a short time ago to Ralph Haines, of Penn township, for $900.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Stover, of Cuddy, announce the birth of a son, whom they are pleased to name Mervin Clayton Stover. The father is manager of one of the large company stores at Cuddy.

The heating plant in the new dwelling house of W. J. Mitterling is now completed, and works like a charm, the circulation being perfect. The work was done by the local plumber, S. J. Rowe.

Mrs. Nancy Benner and her son, John Benner, are contemplating moving from Centre Hall to Philadelphia, where the Misses Bess and Breeze Benner have been living during the past few years.

From Scipio Siding, Ohio, David G. Smetzler writes the Reporter that they are having fair weather out there; that there had been some sledding, but at the time of writing the ground was bare.

There was somewhat of a collapse in the egg market, last week. Centre Hall is almost of enough importance in egg production to warrant getting next to the change in the price of hen fruit over a private line from New York.

The poultry on Kerlins Grand View Poultry Farm is being viewed daily by persons interested in high grade poultry. The proprietors take this means to notify the public that all persons are welcome to visit the plant at any time except on Sundays.

James I. Foust, who for several years has lived on the Wilson farm along the pike near Spring Mills, will make sale of his farm stock and implements, Tuesday, March 21st. The farm on which Mr. Foust lives is now owned by Luther M. Royer, who will move onto it himself.

George Homan, the horse dealer, of Millheim, is buying up a carload of horses to ship to the eastern market. He shipped a car load of horses, by express, from Coburn just a short time ago. John Flanigan, of New York, also came to the valley last week for the purpose of buying horses for the city markets.

Edward Brown, a Belle telephone lineman, has finally succeeded in renting a portion of the Herlacher house, and next spring will move his family from Bellefonte to Centre Hall. Mr. Brown is taking care of the Bell lines on the south side of the county, and is coming here so that he will be more conveniently located to perform that work.

Some weeks ago, Mrs. Alfred Durst, of Centre Hall, went to Tanneytown, Maryland, to visit her daughter, Mrs. David Wolf, and on her return stopped with her daughter, Mrs. S. H. Deitzel, at Pleasant Unity, and at Johnstown, with her third daughter, Mrs. S. M. Goodhart. She also visited friends at other points including a number at Tyrone. She returned home the beginning of this week.

At a recent meeting of the Bellefonte school board Jonas E. Wagner was elected supervising principal of all the Bellefonte schools and Charles Auman was elected principal of the High school. Mr. Underwood has resigned as a teacher in the High school to return to college. His place was filled by Clarence E. Tool, principal of the Millheim schools. The resignation at Millheim took effect Wednesday.

Arber J. Cummings, of Linden Hall, was in Centre Hall Saturday. He is operating the Krape well-digging machinery, and is elated over having succeeded in finding water on the J. Hale Ross farm, at Linden Hall, at the depth of one hundred and seventy-six feet. It was the most difficult drilling done by him in a long while. The next proposition to be tackled is in Centre Hall, where a cess pool will be drilled for W. J. Mitterling. Charles Frazier is assisting Mr. Cummings to operate the drilling machinery.

BOYS AND THE FARM.

The department of agriculture is proving its value constantly in many ways, but in none more definitely and clearly than in the encouragement of American youth to adopt the cultivation of the soil as a career. It is vitally essential that the children of farmers should themselves till the land their fathers and their grandfathers have tilled, says the Washington Star. They are potentially the best farmers. If they move to the city to learn trades or to enter the professions or to drift inefficiently through life, somebody must take their places to grow the crops essential to the feeding of the people. A dangerous tendency exists toward the elimination of the small farmer and the substitution of the syndicate, or the large individual holder of land. This destroys competition at the source of the necessities of life. It tends unmistakably to higher prices and to the increase in the number of non-producing individuals. Only by making the farm attractive and profitable can any headway be made against this city-drifting disposition, with its inevitable consequence of dangerous concentration. The telephone, the electric car, the rural free delivery and to some extent the good roads movement have all contributed to lessen the disadvantages of rural existence. Now comes science, leading to an increase in the profits and in the dignity of farming. It is important that the competition among the boys in the south which has just been brought to so successful a conclusion should be extended into all parts of the country.

Where is the psychologist who can give an explanation of the different ways in which the weather affects sports? There are baseball and football, for instance. Both are strenuous games, yet one flourishes like a green bay tree in the good old summer time, no matter how hot, and the other thrives only in a frosty atmosphere. Players and spectators seem to be in the same boat. When the sun shines the hottest the heroes of the diamond are warmed up to their limberest and their best, while the lookers-on occupying the bleachers just roast and are happy. But let a cold blast blow across the field and baseball shrinks like a delicate flower touched by frost. On the other hand footballers want it cold and raw and really prefer a near-zero temperature and a flurry of snow, if they can be had. Such conditions appear to put "ginger" into every brawny member of the eleven. And the crowds on the grandstand forget all about the weather while watching the wonderful doings of their favorite players.

In the matter of dress we have fallen upon a decline since the days when the Duke of Wellington was refused admission to Almack's because he was wearing trousers instead of breeches and silk stockings, says the London Chronicle. Even Almack's however, had to admit trousers within its closely guarded portals the following year. When Gladstone was "up" at Oxford the reign of the dandies was in full swing. When late in life he revisited the university to lecture to the undergraduates on Homer he was asked by G. W. E. Russell whether he noticed any difference between his audience and the men of his own time. "Yes," he replied, "in their dress an enormous change. I am told that I had among my audience some of the most highly connected and richest men in the university, and there wasn't one whom I couldn't have dressed from top to toe for £5."

The "wild garlic" which infests portions of Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana is a noxious plant first seen in Pennsylvania. A farmer in southern Indiana secured some seed wheat from the Ohio Valley, and noticed the presence of the onionlike pest in the resulting crop. He gave it no further thought, as "the entire infested plot might have been carried away in his hat." And yet within three years the wheat from that section of the country was refused by all millers because of the malodorous garlic, the seeds of which are about the same size as large wheat grains. In certain localities land values have been sorely affected by the presence of this weed.

A singular point evoked by recent prosecutions of fortune-tellers and palmists in another city is the fact that their insight into the futures of other people gave them no inkling of the evil influences that were about to haul themselves into the police courts.

They figure it out that the moon is now 17,000 miles nearer the earth than usual. Everything seems to be coming down a bit.

FIVE KILLED IN TRAIN COLLISION

When Express Hits Another at Batavia, N. Y.

DISREGARD OF SIGNALS ALLEGED.

Buffalo and Boston Special Was At Standstill In Yard At Batavia, N. Y., When the Western Express Runs Into It From Rear—Two Cars Telescoped and Engine Topples Over On Pullman—Two Of the Injured Not Expected To Live—Four Instantly Killed.

Batavia, N. Y. (Special).—Five men are dead, two are probably fatally injured and over a score were more or less seriously hurt in the wreck of the Western express and the Boston and Buffalo special, both westbound on the New York Central here. Four of the victims were killed instantly, one has since died and two of the injured in the hospital are not expected to live.

The Buffalo and Boston special No. 49 was at a standstill in the station yards, when, it is alleged by railroad officials, Engineer J. B. Lydell, of Buffalo, on the Western express train, No. 23, ran past precautionary signals and dashed into the rear of the standing train. The signals, Superintendent Everett declares, are in excellent working order.

Crashed During Fog.

Conditions near dawn were those which railroad men fear the most, and which make the handling of trains almost a hazard at best. A heavy fog hung over everything and a drizzling rain, which at times increased to a smart shower, was turned to ice the moment it touched anything. The windows of engines and coaches were opaque and the rails were covered with a coating of ice, which reformed almost immediately after each passing train.

Train No. 49 arrived at Syracuse ahead of No. 23 and thus took precedence on the Western division between there and Buffalo. It was ahead of time at Batavia and was awaiting the signal from the conductor to start on time. Train No. 23 followed closely behind.

Jumped For Their Lives.

Engineer Lydell admits that he saw a cautionary light 4,000 feet east of the station and, the railroad officials say, he also admits having passed a signal set against him. When Lydell saw the tail lights of the express through the fog it was too late to prevent disaster. He jammed on the brakes, reversed, and with a cry of warning to his fireman leaped for his life.

The flying train, with scarcely appreciable check, owing to the icy rails, plowed into the Pullman coach, the last car on the standing train. The heavy coach was telescoped and tossed to one side, the engine continuing on through the wreckage to the next car, a day coach. There it reared high in the air and toppled over on the wrecked Pullman.

The work of rescue was quickly organized. The local firemen and police, railroad men and volunteers worked heroically among the wreckage and hissing steam from the shattered engine to rescue those pinned in the debris, to whom immediate succor meant life. Vans and cabs were used as ambulances to carry the injured to the hospital.

Dead In Rear Coach.

It was two hours after the wreck occurred when the first body was taken out. It had been jammed in between the wreckage of the Pullman and the overturned engine. Soon afterward three more were found near the same spot. All four had been traveling in the rear coach of the forward train, which bore the full brunt of the first terrific impact.

ARMED GUARDS FOR TRAINS.

Utah Division Of the Central Pacific Prepared For Bandits.

Salt Lake City (Special).—Bandits who are ambitious to hold up passenger trains on the Utah division of the Central Pacific will encounter the most approved rifles in the hands of men who know how to use them.

Under orders from the division superintendent every passenger train will carry an armed guard. The precaution is the result of the robbery of the Overland limited last week.

Big Growth In Money Orders.

New York (Special).—The report of Postmaster Morgan of the money-order business transacted at the New York Postoffice (Manhattan and the Bronx), during the calendar year of 1910 shows that there were in all 13,655,551 transactions, representing the sum of $570,089,965. This is an increase over 1909 of $104,620,516.

Swear They Are Males.

Seattle, Wash. (Special).—Approximately 4,000 women in Seattle have sworn they are "male persons." The form of vow adopted by law for administering to citizens the oath of registration states that the person being sworn is a "male" person. It has not been changed by legislative enactment, although women have been enfranchised in this State, and those taking part in the present city registration have subscribed to an oath that makes them "male persons."

TAFT WANTS START MADE

Urges Fortification of the Panama Canal.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—President Taft Thursday sent to Congress a special message urging the fortification of the Panama Canal, and recommending that an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the initiation of the work on the proposed defenses be made at the present session of Congress. He forwarded with the message the report of the special army and navy board recommending fortification of the canal.

"The canal, when completed," said the President in his message, "will afford the only convenient route for water communication between our Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, and virtually will be a part of the coast line of the United States. Its assured possession and control will contribute to our peace, safety and prosperity as a nation. In my judgment it is the right and the duty of the United States to fortify and make capable of defense the work that will bear so vital a relation to its welfare, and that is being created solely by it and at an expenditure of enormous sums.

"'I have authorized the submission to the secretary of the treasury of the revised estimate for the appropriation referred to in the accompanying letter of the secretary of war, which estimate is less than the original estimate by approximately one-third."

The modified report of the fortifications board, accompanying the message, reduces the estimate of the cost of fortification of the canal from $19,546,843 to $12,475,328. This reduction was reached by a 15 per cent. cut in the amount of armament through the omission of a battery of two 14-inch rifles and four 12-inch mortars at Bateie Point; through a redistribution and greater concentration of the proposed garrisons and the adoption of simpler and more economical types of quarters and emplacements.

HEN IS NOT A BIRD.

Important Court Decision Declares That Eggs Are Eggs.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—Eggs are eggs. Also a hen is not a bird.

So says the United States Court of Customs Appeals, in a decision which seems to settle a question that has muddled the customs, perplexed the experts and finally called in the zoologists.

Eggs coming from China, usually are broken out of the shells, packed in tin cans and frozen. Customs officials contended they entered this country in competition with home-laid eggs and assessed a duty of 5 cents a dozen.

The importer objected, declaring they should be free of duty under that section of the tariff which puts the eggs of birds on the free list. He contended that at most they were only albumen and dutiable as such.

The full bench of five justices agreed that the importer's claim that a hen is a bird lacked merit and that an egg is an egg in the shell or out of it.

CLARK TO SUCCEED HIMSELF.

Senator Chosen By Republican Caucus At Cheyenne.

Cheyenne, Wyo. (Special).—At a joint caucus of Republicans of the legislature held Thursday night Senator Clark was chosen, 44 to 39, as the nominee of the party, to succeed himself. This means that Senator Clark will have the full party vote and will be re-elected to the United States Senate.

CLARENCE D. CLARK.
United States Senator From Wyoming.

Big Packers Fail.

Trenton, N. J. (Special).—Halstead & Co., of Jersey City, dealers in meats, lards and oils, filed in the United States Court a petition in bankruptcy. The firm's liabilities are given as $728,296, and the assets $826,506, including a valuation of $470,000 on the company's plant.

Wolves Kill Miners.

Seattle, Wash. (Special).—Several residents of the west coast of Prince of Wales Island, Southeastern Alaska, have been killed and eaten by wolves the last year, according to Chas. A. Sulzer, a brother of Congressman Sulzer, of New York, who has just returned from the North. Mr. Sulzer says that the wolves, having killed off all the deer, have become desperate with hunger and come right up to the doors of the cabins of the miners.

GREAT FIGHTING BY INSURRECTOS

Small Party Fight Drawn Battle With Mexican Troops.

TWO KILLED AND SEVEN WOUNDED.

A Score Of Men Fall In Encounter On the Banks Of the Rio Grande—When Darkness Ends the Conflict the Insurrectos Hold the Field—A Correspondent Among the Wounded—Repeated Charges Bravely Repulsed.

Comstock, Tex. (Special).—More than 20 men were killed in a fight between the Mexican federal soldiers and a small party of insurrectos on the bank of the Rio Grande, opposite this point Thursday. The insurrectos had only 18 men, and for three hours they held at bay about 75 rurales and about 100 infantry soldiers. When darkness ended the battle the insurrectos held the field and the federal troops had withdrawn a couple of miles and camped. The insurrectos left a couple of hours later for their mountain headquarters, 50 miles away, carrying their wounded with them.

Of the 18 insurrectos two were killed and seven wounded. E. S. O'Reilly, a correspondent with the insurrectos, received a slight wound in the thigh.

Twice the rurales charged the insurgent position, once coming within 50 yards, but each time they were repulsed.

The arrival of 20 more insurrectos in the last few minutes of the fight saved the defenders and prevented what probably would have been a massacre of the little band.

The firing began at a distance of about 300 yards. The insurgents poured a volley from their .30-caliber rifles into the enemy, and three soldiers fell. The soldiers replied with their Mauser carbines, and the battle was on.

After half an hour's continuous fighting the federals received reinforcements from their main body and a charge was made on the insurrectos. As they advanced the defenders of the pass sent storm of bullets into their ranks, firing coolly and making every shot count. The federals advanced a short distance and then returned to their original position.

The steady fire and good aim of the insurrectos was more than the soldiers could stand and they shrank from closing for a final assault.

The insurrectos buried their dead, cared for the wounded, packed their equipment and two hours later started across country for Elburro, the mountain where they have established their stronghold.

The insurrectos have a strongly fortified camp in the mountains and more than 150 men under arms at that point. They are well armed and plentifully supplied with ammunition.

PASS BIG PENSION BILL.

Sulloway Bill Passed In House By Vote of 212 to 62.

Washington (Special). — The House of Representatives Tuesday passed the Sulloway general pension bill, which grants pensions ranging from $12 to $36 a month to all soldiers who served ninety days in the United States Army in the Civil War or sixty days in the Mexican War and who have reached the age of 62 years. The bill adds about $45,000,000 a year to the pension roll.

Opposition to the measure was expressed by some members on the ground that its terms were too general. It provides for the pensioning of all Union soldiers regardless of disability, the only requirement being that they shall have attained the age of 62 years. The general scale of pensions fixed in the new bill according to age is as follows: Sixty-two years, $15 a month; 65 years, $20 a month; 70 years, $25 a month; 75 years, $36 a month.

It was declared by the advocates of the bill that one hundred veterans are dying every twenty-four hours.

DIES COUNTING HIS WEALTH.

Aged Man Drops Dead With His World's Goods Before Him.

New York (Special).—John Cremett took leave of the world Thursday while counting his store of this world's goods. He was 77 years old.

When the old man's landlady entered his room to call him to a late luncheon she found him with his head bowed forward on a table. Before him lay $675 in gold and notes and two bank books, showing deposits for a considerabde sum. He had died of heart failure.

DEPLORES FACTIONAL FEUDS.

Gov. Carroll, Of Iowa, Says They Have An Unwholesome Effect.

Des Moines, Iowa (Special).—Governor Carroll, in his inaugural address, made a plea for the cessation of political and factional feuds in Iowa, declaring they had had an unwholesome effect upon business conditions of the various communities.

"Nothing better could come to our state than that there should be an end of these matters," he said.

ACCUSED OF BUYING SEAT

Stephenson, of Wisconsin, Denies Charge.

Madison, Wis. (Special).—"The nomination in the primary and the election to the United States Senate by the legislature of Isaac Stephenson are null and void on account of attempted briberies and corrupt practices by himself and his campaign managers, agents and workers and of violations of laws of Wisconsin defining and punishing offenses against the elective franchise."

This is the gist of the findings of a special senatorial investigating committee in its report submitted to Gov. Francis E. McGovern Wednesday. The report is signed by Lieutenant Governor Thomas Morris and Senator Spencer W. Marsh (Republicans) and Senator Husting (Democrat).

ISAAC STEPHENSON.
United States Senator from Wisconsin.

The two Republican members of the committee are members of the so-called progressive wing of the Republican party and Senator Husting calls himself a Progressive Democrat.

Early in the legislative session of 1909 resolutions were introduced in both houses calling for an investigation of the senatorial primary election. The resolutions were particularly pointed at United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, who, according to his report filed with the secretary of state, expended $107,000 during the campaign.

Speaker Bancroft, of the Assembly, named a committee composed of a majority of stalwart Republicans and Lieutenant Governor John Strange, who then presided over the Senate, named Senators Marsh, Morris and Husting. The committee met in joint session for several weeks. Then the Assembly branch of the committee decided to go no further.

False, Says Stephenson.

Washington, D. C. (Special).—Senator Stephenson at first declined to make any comment on the news from the Wisconsin State capital that charges of violations of the election law had been filed against him with the governor. Later he gave out the following:

"The report of the majority of the legislative committee was made at the session of the legislature held two years ago. The committee, after an exhaustive investigation, exonerated me and all those connected with my campaign of all the charges. The report now made is by three of the old committee who refused to concur with the majority. They did not then submit a report, but have waited until a legislature had been elected which they regarded as favorable to their plans. Two of them are no longer members of the legislature. I have not yet seen the report. So far as the charges have come to me they are without foundation and wholly false."

TWENTY FIREMEN INJURED.

Series Of Fires In New York May Result In One Man's Death.

New York (Special).—Twenty firemen were injured, one perhaps fatally, and damage aggregating $150,000 was caused by a series of five fires here. Fireman Leo Hackbarth fell four stories down an air shaft and through a skylight in a burning Harlem tenement. The physicians in the hospital where he now lies say he cannot recover. He was assisting a woman tenant to escape when he fell, but she was not hurt, nor were any of the occupants.

Five firemen were severely burned when a liquor and drug importing house on Pine street caught fire, and 12 were injured, five seriously, in a blaze which destroyed a five-story building on Duane street.

40 Dead, 5 Hurt In Landslide.

Castro, Urdiales, Spain (Special).—Forty persons were killed and five injured here when a landslide overwhelmed a gang of laborers, burying them all beneath a mass of earth and rock.

Hotel Wrecked By Bomb.

San Francisco (Special).—With a force that demolished the whole front of the building, tore up the cement sidewalk, shattered windows within a radius of many blocks and put more than 30 lives in peril, a dynamite bomb exploded shortly before 1 o'clock Monday morning in the doorway of a restaurant on the first floor of the Bimbo Hotel, at 391 Bay street. The occupants were hurled from their beds and many of them badly bruised.

LIVE NEWS OF THE STATE

Berwick.—Employed by the Imperial Government in teaching the sons of the royal family and nobility in China, and in preparing them for American colleges, Miss Emma S. Ligget, formerly a teacher in the Berwick High School, sailed January 18 for Peking, the school in which she will be employed having been founded by the Chinese government as reciprocation on the part of China for the act of President Roosevelt in repaying part of the Boxer indemnity to China.

Reading.—A verdict of $1,125 in favor of the plaintiff was returned by the jury in the suit of Catharine Ann Beidler, of Heidelberg, this county, against the Consolidated Telephone Companies of Pennsylvania and the Bethel and Mt. Aetna Telephone and Telegraph Company, tried before Judge Endlich. The suit was for the recovery of damages alleged to have been sustained to the plaintiff's property caused by the defendants cutting down trees.

York.—While fixing the fire in the furnace under the boilers at the York Chemical Works, Jacob Heiges, night watchman, was nearly burned to death. He got too near the open door and his clothing became ignited. He ran from the building to the tracks of the Northern Central Railroad, where the flames were extinguished by the shifting crew. He is now in a serious condition at the York Hospital.

Altoona.—After it had practically kicked the interior of the stable to pieces, a horse belonging to Chester Mock, of East Freedom, died of hydrophobia, resulting from the bite from a mad dog six weeks ago. The horse bit a man, who had gone into the stable to examine it, and the dog bit a little girl. The horse's head was sent to the State Live Stock Board for examination.

Shenandoah.—Charles P. Neill, Commissioner of Labor, at Washington, notified all anthracite coal operators that, according to the price of coal at tidewater points the mine workers' wages for January would be seven per cent. above the basis. This, together with full time in the region, makes many miners' homes happy. Business was never better in this region.

Girardville.—Father dead, a victime of treacherous overhead coal at William Penn colliery, wife ill and six children down with scarlet fever and diphtheria, is the plight of Harry Sands' family at William Penn. Sympathetic fellow-workers, instead of attending the funeral, worked the day and contributed the earnings to the destitute family.

Reading.—Manual training has been such a success in the schools in the short time that it has been in the curriculum that at a meeting of one of the Teachers' Committee it was decided to extend it to the seventh and eighth grades. Franklin Gill, of Bethlehem, has been recommended as an additional teacher in this department.

Pottsville.—Charles P. Price, mine inspector of the Twentieth District, including colleries in Western Schuylkill and Dauphin counties, reports for the past year 13 fatal accidents inside, and three outside, making a total of 16. The total other accidents was 32 inside and 10 outside, making a total of 42.

Washington Borough.—Miss Irene Wills has sued John Young for $2,000 damages for allegel injury to her prospects in matrimony. She was engaged to be married, and her intended husband broke the engagement on rumors that she had colored blood in her veins, which she denies.

Mahanoy City.—Struck by a crowded west bound Schuylkill Railway car at Mahanoy Plane, William Mack, of Maizeville, was crushed to death. A panicky feeling possessed the passengers when the car jumped crosswise on the tracks as the result of the accident.

Lancaster.—Walter W. Franklin, a member of the Lancaster bar, has been prosecuted on the charge of embezzlement. J. W. Morrison alleges Franklin appropriated money given him to pay costs in divorce proceedings and also failed to account for money collected for Morrison.

Reading.—Mrs. Emma Boyer, her 5-year-old daughter, Verna, and two boarders, Anna Bertolet and Mary Brady, were made seriously ill after eating caramels. Samples of the candy will be analyzed, and if found to contain stuff contrary to the pure food act, prosecutions will follow.

Hazleton.—Lewis Grebey, of this city, foreman at the Cranberry Colliery of A. Pardee & Company, was struck by a mine car and killed.

Shamokin.—Directors of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage, west of Snydertown, at their semi-annual meeting referred plans for a handsome new school building to the Educational Committee. Over $10,000 were expended for the maintenance of the orphanage during 1910.

Mahanoy City.—Mrs. Caspar Schad, an aged woman, living at Coles, fractured her skull, and is dying as the result of a fall while preparing the noonday meal. She was overcome by weakness, and fell, her head striking a chair.

In the Three-Room Flat

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

"I'm sick of boarding!" Bob Drake threw himself into the big chair in the first floor front room and glowered at his room mate.

"Well—I'm not a boarding-house keeper, am I? You needn't look at me as if I had gotten the clam in the chowder tonight—I swear I didn't."

Jimmy Rogers took his pipe from the mantel and lighted it leisurely while he looked at Drake through half-closed lids. Why don't you get married—if you—"

"Cut it out—the only girl threw me down a year and a half ago and I'm a jolly bachelor for the rest of my days."

"I'm sorry, old man—I didn't know—"

"It's all right, only—" Drake looked out into a sunlit sky—"there's no other girl for me."

"Some other fellow I suppose?"

"No," Drake laughed a short, harsh laugh, "she gave me up for a box of paints, but I would take her back—paints and all—if she'd have me. I told her at the time I never would, but—I have had eighteen months in which to think out her side of the question."

"I suppose it was the time-worn 'Career or love'—to tell you the truth, Bobby, I think you are better off without a girl who goes about with the career notion in her head, temperaments and things." Jimmy was getting interested in his own argument. "Some day you will run across a nice little fluffy girl who won't know a Rubens from a Gibson and she will make you as happy as a clam."

"Thanks. But the domestic kind don't make any hit with me—I would much prefer to pay a housekeeper and be—"

"By Jove! You've hit it—let's get a good housekeeper and take a furnished flat!"

Jimmy was up and looking for the morning paper before Drake realized that he was serious. "Wonder why he never thought of that before?"

Ruth Herself Appeared.

"You're a wonder, Jimmy, and I suppose you are going to spend this lovely Sunday climbing up dark, dingy apartment stairs and dragging me along." Drake's voice had a hint of eagerness in it. The scheme appealed to him and in a moment two heads were buried in the "Furnished Flat" column of a morning paper.

"This sounds good!" Jimmy cut out a paragraph and read: "Three rooms and bath artistically furnished. Elevator. Fifty dollars a month. That's short and to the point, and it is on Morningside, just a couple of squares up. It is early, but what do you say to going right up and looking at it?"

"I'm on!" Bobby Drake jumped up and the two were soon out in the brisk April air.

With the clipping from the paper safely in hand, they rang the bell of the advertised number. The card on the door read, A. Ivery.

There was a scurrying of feet from within and a voice whispered, "You go, Alice—it may be some one to look at the apartment."

The hearts of both men gave a jump when the door opened and a slim, fluffy person in a soft blue something stood before them.

"We—is—that is—we saw an advertisement—" Jimmy was stammering, when the girl herself came to the rescue.

"You perhaps want to look at the apartment," she said, leading the way inside. "We don't want to leave," she began in a voice decidedly near tears, "but Miss Denning—"

"Denning! What Miss Denning?" Bobby Drake had turned so suddenly on the girl that she was startled into answering him without a thought of his rudeness.

"Ruth Denning—she has won some big prize or something and we are going to France—"

"Where is she now?" Drake's voice was unsteady.

There was no time for answer. Ruth Denning herself appeared. She stood between the portieres with a hand gripping each one in the effort to steady herself.

"Bobby—" She smiled in a way that Alice Ivery had not seen her smile even when the great Leylan prize was given her. She came forward then and met the hand which took hers as in a vise.

"Are you flat hunting?" The very foolishness of her question in so tense a moment snapped the cord and all four young persons laughed. And Jimmy so far forgot the fact that he did not know either girl that he answered glibly:

"Why, no—we are hunting mushrooms with wabbly eyes."

Alice Avery's silvery laugh rang out and she cast a demure glance at Jimmy. "Perhaps you would like to see the view from the fire escape," she said, looking pointedly at Drake and Ruth Denning, who looked as if a new world had suddenly sprung up before them. Jimmy took the hint and followed the little blue figure to a miniature kitchen, where he perched himself upon the enameled tubs to enjoy the novel situation.

In the other room Bob Drake was speaking.

"Why are you renting your apartment, Ruth? Does it mean that you are—that you have failed?" The true sympathy in Bob's voice brought untold triumph to Ruth Denning. When she spoke she had gained command of herself and her steady gray eyes met his without flinching and telling no tale of her innermost feelings.

"No, I have not failed. On the contrary, I have succeeded even beyond my greatest expectations. Didn't you hear Alice Ivery tell you—"

"I heard nothing after she had spoken your name."

"Bobby, I have won the great Leylan prize, and they are sending me to Paris for three years—" The last note ended in a sob and she was in his arms. She had kept up bravely during the long, hard competition, and now for the first time she fully realized the greatness of her achievement.

Bob Drake had learned much about Ruth and the depths of her moods during their long separation, and now he held her quietly until the heavy sobbing had ceased.

"I'm awfully silly." Ruth looked up at Drake through shining tears. "The struggle has been long and hard, Bobby, dear, and I have wanted you to be here so terribly at times."

"Dear," Drake asked, tenderly, "when do you sail?"

"I am not going—now." Ruth looked up quickly.

Bobby smiled. "Yes you are." He knew that this withdrawal of the stronger Ruth was but momentary. "You are going over to the land of art and work even harder than you have here—because you have more at stake."

"More at stake! How can I have now that I have won—you?"

"Winning is only the first step," he answered with a quizzical light in his eyes.

"Robert Drake! Do you mean to tell me that you would cease to love me if I failed at the last minute and gave up my art?"

"I mean exactly that. The girl I have always loved is not made of the stuff that gives up." He lifted her face and looked into her eyes. "You would not be that girl if you gave up."

"I have indeed won," the girl breathed softly.

"Oh, I say—excuse me!"

Jimmy Rogers had burst into the room, followed by a girl with flushed cheeks and happy eyes.

"I suppose the trip to Paris is indefinitely postponed and that Drake and I are done out of this dandy little flat."

"Neither," put in Bob, "we will take the flat and also make one trip a year to Paris."

Jimmy Rogers and Alice Ivery exchanged glances. She was the fluffy, dainty kind who knew not a Gibson from a Peter Paul Rubens.

"I suppose Ruth will always need me," she sighed, "to keep house for her—"

"Not on your life," put in Jimmy, more firmly than eloquently.

Almost a Record Family.

E. C. Carnett of Hazard, Perry county, Kentucky, was born March 8, 1822, and was married to Miss Cynthia Grigsley, June 8, 1844. To them were born eleven children, six girls and five boys. These children are all living, and the father and mother are also living at the ripe ages of eighty-three and eighty-eight. The old pair have sixty-eight grandchildren and seventy-one great-grandchildren, which added to their eleven children, make a grand total of 153 souls in the four generations.—Bud. Margan, in the Christian Herald.

"He said for all he cared, I might go to Farukhabad."

"And you are consulting an atlas, I presume, to find out where that is?"

"Not at all. I merely wish to discover if Farukhabad has a Carnegie library."

THE DAIRY

COMFORT IN STALL FOR COW

Distinguishing Features of One Illustrated Herewith Is Movable Manger and Rack.

The style of stall shown in the illustration affords a great degree of comfort to the cow. The distinguishing features of the stall are the movable manger and rack whereby the length of the standing room in front and behind may be varied to suit the individual cow, and the fastening for the animal, which consists of a rope or chain across the rear end of the stall, to keep the cow from backing out.

The stall should be 3 feet wide on centers. The entire stall, from A to B (see cut), is 7 feet in length. The gates (which should all swing one way), are about 4 feet long. The rear posts, if used, should slant, as shown in the cut, to allow the milker a little more room. In some stables these rear posts have been done away with entirely, the gates simply being chained or roped together. As usually built, the front rack or panel is made of 2x4 frame-work, with 7-16 inch iron rods; and this frame-work is fastened solidly to the manger; but the manger and frame-work are not attached to the sides of the stall, but left loose, so as to be adjusted to the length of the cow. In some cases, however, the rack is hinged at the top and the bottom allowed to swing in the manger, so that it may be swung toward the front several inches. This allows the cow a little more freedom in getting up and lying down. Wooden slats may be substituted for the iron rods, or in some cases a section of iron wire fencing is used in place of the rods. The rope across the rear of the stall is usually stapled at one side and hooked with an ordinary harness-strap at the other.

BUILDING UP A DAIRY HERD

Fault of Dairymen in General Is Proper Application of Knowledge They Possess—Few Points.

The fault of dairymen in general is not so much the lack of knowledge as the proper application of the knowledge they possess.

One thing that we ought to consider when we start out to buy breeding cattle is the fact that the knowledge, skill and character of the man we buy them of is about as important as the animals that we are buying.

Can a man sow poor seed and hope to get a good crop? Will nature make any exceptions in one man's favor? These are questions which ought to interest the man who keeps on year after year breeding his cows to some scrub bull.

Too many farmers lack the push and energy required to build up a fine herd of dairy cattle. They are poor business men.

The cow cannot turn all of her energy into the production of milk and still have enough to build up her offspring rightly. To raise good, vigorous calves, we must see to it that the mother has sufficient of the right kind of food and goes dry long enough to do the work rightly.

Age to Sell Cows.

The age to which a cow of the beef type can be profitably kept should be gauged largely by her character as a breeder. If she breeds regularly and rears good calves she should be kept to a reasonable old age. This will militate against the price which she will bring on the block when she is sold, but the lack will be much more than made up in the exceellent character of the stock which she has produced. On the other hand, when a cow of this class is not possessed of promise as a successful breeder in the first and second calves which she produces, she ought to be sold. Such a cow may then be put upon the market, so that she will command a good price.

Salting Butter.

When attending a farmers' institute recently Prof. G. L. Martin, head of the dairy department of the North Dakota Agricultural college, was asked the question, "How much should butter be salted?" His reply was: "For ordinary marketing from three-fourths of an ounce to one ounce to the pound of butter fat."

Success in Dairying.

Success or failure in dairying does not mean the number of cows a man keeps or the rushing that he does, but upon the character of the man, the intelligent thought that he gives his business and his management.

COWS STANDING IN GUTTER

Common and Uncleanly Habit of Big Animals and Young Heifers Is Effectively Cured.

In modern barns where cows are tied with the movable stanchions, the herdsman is not much bothered with their habit of standing in the gutter; but where the cows are tied with chains or stationary stanchions, it is common with big cows or young heifers just new into the stall, says a writer in the Country Gentleman. It is most irritating to come in every morning and find a cow has been standing in the gutter and making a filth of the stall when she steps out of it, and then lying down and swishing her tail in the mess.

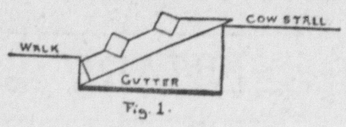

Fig. 1.

I have tried the following, and find that with young heifers it cures them of the habit in a very short time, and sometimes old cows can be cured: You get two pieces of 2 by 4-inch and cut them to fit your gutter as shown; angle off one end so that the cow does not lie on a sharp corner; make two half diamond cuts and set in your cross pieces, which are made of 3 by 3-inch, and nail securely. If your gutter is very wide, you may have to put in three pieces of strip, as an old-fashioned cow will soon find she can get her feet down between the strips, but I have never seen a cow stand on the strips. If you have two cows standing together that have this trick, you can make your strips long enough for them both and put an extra 2 by 4-inch piece in the center. If you lift the rack back to the wall when turning out the cows, and if it is well made it will last a long time.

CARING FOR BUTTER WORKER

To Get Rid of Adhering Grease Use Certain Quantity of Hydrochloric Acid Diluted.

Every butter maker knows the importance of using a good butter worker. Without it the butter habitually contains too much water, probably too large a quantity of casein.

The chief point of the butter worker is to get the water out and also to enable the produce to be made up into a good and consistent sample.

But trouble is often caused by the fact of the butter adhering to the worker, arising from a want of cleanliness in that utensil.

The chief cause of this adherence is that the wood is saturated with the greasy material owing either to incomplete washing or the water not being hot enough.

To get rid of this grease use a certain quantity of hydrochloric acid diluted with four times its quantity of water.

This should cover the worker for twelve hours and then it should be thoroughly scrubbed, then washed in boiling water and finally receive a cold douche.

DAIRY NOTES

Cheese-making requires some time.

Cleanliness and feeding are two important points.

A clean, dry cellar is a very good place to ripen the cheese.

The matter of temperature for churning is a vexing question.

A person with a separator has several advantages in handling milk.

Few farmers or dairymen fully understand all the profits from dairying.

An important point is the care of the churn, milk pails and butter bowl.

The separator is made for one specific purpose—that is of skimming milk.

Most cream separators are so constructed that they can be made to last a long time.

In dairying, where whole milk is sold, manure is still a product that should be considered.

Considering both its food and tonic properties, buttermilk may be considered cheap at 10 cents per quart.

When all has been said conditions determine what kind of animals are most profitable for a farmer to keep.

Intensive dairymen hold that nothing but the distinct dairy type of cow can be profitably used in modern dairying.

After salt is properly mixed in the butter should be molded into one pound molds and wrapped in a neat, attractive package.

About the only point of difference between testing milk and cream is, the cream should be weighed and the milk may be measured.

To make a high grade of butter the cream should be kept at a low temperature, below 60 degrees, until twelve hours before churning.

As farming land becomes scarce and high priced, farmers in general are coming to realize the importance of making their land as fertile and productive as possible.

STATE CAPITAL NEWS

Harrisburg Correspondence.

Large Savings Deposits.

Philadelphia's 62 trust companies are shown to have assets of $314,736,755.31, according to the annual report by State Banking Commissioner William H. Smith, on the trust companies, State banks and savings banks in the State.

The report gives a great variety of statistics and shows that Philadelphia has four less trust companies than Allegheny county, but that the assets of the Allegheny companies are only $185,378,575.35. The six State banks of Philadelphia have assets of $4,506,104.94, and the seven savings banks have $164,422,294.90.

Mr. Smith's statistics for the State show a vast control of money by the three classes of institutions. There are 289 trust companies, 139 banks and 11 savings banks.

The 289 trust companies show a gain in resources of over $12,000,000, the resources in 1910 being $685,149,582.01, as compared with $672,933,658.09 in 1909. The 139 State chartered banks show resources of $175,949,393.09 in 1909, against $185,911,702.90 last year, and the 11 savings banks make the gain of $11,219,024.62, their resources for 1910 being $198,425,071.44, against $187,206,046.82 in the year before.

Commissioner Smith asked for returns on savings deposits and they show a total of $298,006,819.27, divided as follows: Savings banks, $175,133,779.72; in trust companies, $83,588,532.88, and in banks, $39,284,506.67. In the year before the total deposits of this character were $251,858,590.04, of which the savings banks held $165,538,528.65.

The savings institutions had 469,519 savings accounts, the trust companies 816,721, and the banks 457,809, a total of 1,744,149. The total for the previous year was 1,669,379, of which the trust companies had 785,368 and the savings banks 456,540.

These figures show a gain of 74,770 persons for savings accounts, and an increase of savings deposits of $46,108,229.23, these deposits being separate from time deposits. The reports were asked in line with the system of the United States Government.

Oleo Licenses.

The long battle over the right of the State Dairy and Food Commissioner to refuse to issue oleo licenses when he is uncertain as to the intent of the applicant, ended Thursday when Judge S. J. M. McCarrell gave an opinion that the law gives the commissioner no discretion. The judge holds that he must issue a license when application is made in proper form, and that he does not have discretionary power.

Commissioner Foust immediately issued licenses to a Philadelphia firm which he had held up pending a legal decision. He will continue to do so and it is expected that there will be some legislation presented to give him more latitude, though the commissioner declined to say anything on the subject.

The State Grange and Committees of the State Dairy Union and Pure Butter Association had urged the commissioner to refuse licenses to persons as to whose intent he was not certain. The commissioner held that he had no such authority, but finally refused to issue the licenses.

The decision was given in the mandamus proceeding brought by R. C. Dotson, of Philadelphia, to compel the commissioner to issue licenses without demanding an oath that the applicant would sell only white oleo.

Judge McCarrell ruled that "the present inquiry is solely as to the discretion vested in the Dairy and Food Commissioner."

"Shiny" Easter Eggs.

Dairy and Food Commissioner James Foust was asked by a committee of the State Confectioners' Association what he intends to do about enforcement of the State law as far as the manufacture of candy eggs for next Easter is concerned.

The committee asked whether under the terms of the pure food law shellac could be used to give the eggs the shiny appearance that characterizes the chocolate variety especially. The hearing was attended by attorneys for the division, as well as State chemists. No decision was given.

William O. Bishop Dies.

William O. Bishop, one of the city's well-known manufacturers and prominent in financial and Masonic circles, died at the age of 67. Mr. Bishop was a veteran of the Civil War and for years was a member of the Old City Grays.

New Masonic Temple.

Harrisburg Masons are preparing for a brilliant event at the opening of the new Masonic Temple, opposite the Capitol, which, it is expected, will be completed within a short time. The building will cost over $150,000. It is expected to hold the celebration on January 24, and among those to attend will be Grand Master G. W. Guthrie, Past Grand Master George B. Orlady, Lieutenant Governor John M. Reynolds and Judge S. J. M. McCarrell.

We are authorized to announce that John R Lemon, of Ferguson township, is a candidate for the office of Commissioner, subject to the usages of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce that John D. Miller, of Walker township, is a candidate for County Treasurer, subject to the usages of the Democratic party.

Governor John K. Tener.

Pennsylvania's new governor was inaugurated on Tuesday. The new cabinet is made up thus:

Robert McAfee, Allegheny county, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Thomas J. Stewart, Montgomery county, Adjutant General.

John C. Bell, Philadelphia, Attorney General.

Samuel C. Todd, of Washington county, has been named executive controller, and Walter H. Gaither, of Allegheny county, private secretary.

Henry Emerick Dead.

Henry Emerick died at his home in Centre Hall early Monday morning. He had been ill during the greater part of the time of the last year, suffering from a complication of diseases due largely to his advanced age, which was seventy-six years, nine months and five days. Interment was made at Centre Hall, Wednesday morning, Rev. B. F. Bieber officiating. He was the last of the brothers and sisters to survive.

The deceased is survived by a widow, nee Catharine Weaver, seven of ten children, namely, J. Frank, Penn Hall; Harvey H., Charles City, Iowa; Samuel S., in State of Washington; George, North Angle, California; Newton E, Altoona; Benjamin H., Centre Hall; Howard, Minneso'a, Montana.

Mr. Emerick was a member of the Spring Mills lodge of Knights of the Golden Eagles, and during his illness drew benefits from that order. The order buried their brother, and was largely represented at the funeral, marching in double column ahead of the hearse. The body also had a guard of six. A number of the members of the Centre Hall castle were also in line.

LOCALS.

Associate Bartholomew with the poultry business—that's all. See his adv.

J. Warren Wood will remain the proprietor of the "Wood House" another year.

Miss Mable Allison, of Spring Mills, last week, entertained a number of her friends from Centre Hall and other points.

The local lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows celebrated its thirty-fifth anniversary Saturday evening.

One cent letter postage is in sight. At least a bill making such a rate has been introduced in congress to become effective in July.

Rev. Daniel Gress will hold the closing services of his pastorate in the Centre Hall Charge at all his appointments on next Sunday.

Miss Leila Huyett, during the past week, has been in Reading, and before returning home will visit for a short time in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Eliza Campbell, of Linden Hall, on reaching her eighty-third birthday, was remembered by many of her friends who sent her ninety birthday cards.

Andrew J. Herbster, of Laurelton, was in town Wednesday, and while here took a look into the poultry operations of the Centre Hall Poultry Yards. He is the son of the miller at the above named place.

John D. Miller, of Walker township, announces himself a candidate for the office of county treasurer. Mr. Miller, as every one knows, is a Democrat, and a citizen well known and highly respected. If nominated and elected treasurer, Mr. Miller will prove that the confidence in him has not been misplaced.

Messrs. John E. and William F. Rishel, the former of near Centre Hall, and the latter of Farmers Mills, each purchased two Percheron brood mares at Kittaning, Armstrong county, the animals arriving last week. They are well bred and correct, and will be kept for breeding purposes by the Rishels, who are horsemen.

Centre County Association, in Philadelphia, will hold its seventh annual banquet at the Continental Hotel, Ninth and Chestnut Streets, Tuesday, February 14th. The president of the association is Dr. Roland G. Curtin and Dr. John C. U. Beale, Secretary. The other members are: Ira D. Garman, Thomas Foster, Max Liveright, Dr. L. Gray Mattern, William Magee, Warner Underwood, Dr. Stuart C. Runkle, Herman Haupt, L. Olin Meek.

Linden Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McFarlane left for Harrisburg Monday afternoon, where they will attend the inauguration, after which they will be guests of relatives for a week.

Miss Sara Wieland, of York, is visiting Mrs. George Hall.

Tuesday evening a number of young people from this place and Boalsburg were entertained at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs Jacob Meyer.

Charles Weaver returned Tuesday from a week's visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Walker, near Uniontown.

Mrs. J. H. Weibly is confined to bed with an attack of grip.

Leroy Searson, who has been quite ill with pneumonia, is very much better.

J. L Tressler was obliged to kill a valuable colt, it having broken its leg in some unaccountable manner.

Miss Anna Ross is spending a few weeks with friends in Altoona.

Mrs. Wallace W. White is visiting in Altoona.

Spring Mills.

William, the five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClellan, died on Wednesday night, and was buried on Saturday morning, in Georges Valley.

Mrs. Katharine Sweetwood, of Centre Hall, was in town on Monday.

The young folks had a party at the home of William Smith, east of town, on Friday evening, and one on Monday evening at the home of Calvin Meyer. Mrs. Harvey Bailey had a surprise party for her daughter, Margaret, on Monday evening.

Mrs. C. C. Bartges has been sick, but is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gramley were called to Mifflinburg on Friday on account of the illness of the former's mother.

Jesse Long, of State College, will return to his home, now occupied by G. C. Walker. Mr. Walker will move into the house vacated by D. W. Sweetwood and owned by James Leitzell. The changes will not take place until spring.

W. J Shook has recovered from his recent illness, and is again able to oversee his business.

MORRIS FROMM

RUNKLE'S BUILDING

CENTRE HALL, PA.

ALL PRICES AS STATED OR WE FORFEIT $25.00.

Some Suspicious Persons

Enquired if we were "hiring" a certain "weekly" paper to abuse us.

Of course every time a spot light is turned on from any source it offers a splendid chance to talk about the merits of the products, but 'pon honor now, we are not hiring that "Weekly."

The general reader seldom cares much for the details of "scraps."

A few may have read lately some articles attacking us and may be interested in the following:

Some time ago a disagreement arose with a "Weekly." They endorsed our foods by letter, but wanted to change the form of advertising, to which we objected.

The "Weekly" discontinued inserting our advertisements while they were negotiating for some changes they wanted in the wording and shape of the advertisements, and during this correspondence our manager gave instructions to our Advertising Department to quit advertising altogether in that "Weekly."

Quite a time after the advertising had been left out, an editorial attack came. We replied in newspapers and the scrap was on.

Then came libel suits from both sides, and some harsh words.

Generally tiresome to the public.

That "Weekly" has attacked many prominent men and reputable manufacturers.

Our Company seems prominent enough for a sensational writer to go after, hunt for some little spot to criticise, then distort, twist and present it to the public under scare heads.

So an attorney from New York spent more or less time for months in Battle Creek hoping to find impurities in our foods, or dirt in the factories. After tireless spying about he summoned twenty-five of our workmen and took their testimony. Every single one testified that the foods are made of exactly the grain and ingredients printed on the packages; the wheat, barley and corn being the choicest obtainable—all thoroughly cleaned—the water of the purest, and every part of the factories and machinery kept scrupulously clean.

That all proved disappointing to the "Weekly." There are very few factories, hospitals, private—or hotel and restaurant kitchens that could stand the close spying at unexpected times and by an enemy paid to find dirt or impurities of some kind.

In any ordinary kitchen or factory he would find something to magnify and make a noise about.

But he failed utterly with the Postum Works and products. Twenty to thirty thousand people go through the factories annually and we never enquire whether they are there to spy or not. It makes no difference to us.

He next turned to discover something about our advertising that could be criticized.

An analysis of the methods and distorted statements of the "Weekly" may interest some readers, so we take up the items one by one and open them out for inspection. We will "chain up" the harsh words and make no reference in this article to the birth, growth and methods of the "Weekly" but try to coufine the discussion to the questions now at issue.

Some Facts

Battle Creek, Michigan, December 30, 1910.

We the undersigned certify that never to our knowledge has a testimonial letter been printed by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., which did not have behind it a genuine letter signed, and believed to be an honest statement.

To the best of our knowledge and belief the Company has receive upwards of fifty thousand (50,000) genuine testimonial letters.

This company has never knowingly made nor permitted an untruthful statement regarding its products or its methods.

C. W. POST, Chairman. (With Company 16 years, from the beginning.)

Distortion No. 1 stated that we have been accustomed to advertise Grape-Nuts and Postum as "cure-alls for everything."

It has never been the policy of this Company to advertise Grape-Nuts or Postum to cure anything.

We say that in cases where coffee disagrees and is causing sickness its dismissal will remove the cause of the trouble, and we suggest the use of Postum for the reason that it furnishes a hot palatable morning beverage, and contains natural elements from the grain which can be used by nature to assist in rebuilding nerve centers that coffee may have broken down.

Likewise Grape-Nuts food does not cure anything, but it does assist nature tremendously in rebuilding, provided the undigestible food that has been used is discontinued and Grape-Nuts taken in its place.

Charge No. 2 states that the passage of the National Food & Drugs Act compelled us to drop from the packages some assertions regarding the nutritive value of Grape-Nuts.

We have never been "compelled" to make any change.

Since the beginning it has been a universal rule to print clearly on every package exactly what the contents are made of.

Before the passage of the Pure Food Law the packages stated that Grape-Nuts food was made of wheat and barley.

We did not esteem the small amount of salt and yeast as of value enough to speak of, but after the new Law came in we became as technical as the officials at Washington and added the words "yeast" and "salt," although we have no recollection of being asked to.

We believed that our statement that Grape-Nuts will supply elements to nourish the brain and nerve centers is true and bring authorities to support the fact.

Some state chemists believed this a gross exaggeration and inasmuch as the Food Dept. at Washington could easily harass grocers, pending a trial on the disputed question, we concluded that much the better way would be to eliminate from our packages such claims, however certain we may be that the claims are true.

Another statement objected to read as follows:

"The system will absorb a greater amount of nourishment from one pound of Grape-Nuts than from ten pounds of meat, wheat, oats, or bread."

Some Department chemists deceive themselves as well as the public.

"Calories" is the word which defines a unit of heat determined by the amount necessary to raise one kilogram of water one degree centigrade. On this basis a table of calories is prepared showing the percentage of different kinds of food. Butter shows 8.60; Grape-Nuts 3.96; milk 0.70. Remember the statement on the package spoke of the nourishment the system would absorb, but did not speak of the calories of heat contained in it, for the heat is not nourishment, and the nourishment cannot be judged by the number of heat units, notwithstanding the fact that certain chemists would have the public believe so.

As an illustration: Attempt to feed a man sixty days on butter alone, with its 8.60 calories. The man would die before the experiment had run sixty days.

Then, take Grape-Nuts with 3.96 and milk with 0.70,—the two combined equal 4.66—about one-half the number of calories contained in butter. The man fed for sixty days on this food would be well nourished, and could live not only sixty days, but six months on that food alone, and we do not hesitate to say from our long knowledge of the sustaining power of the food that a man at the end of sixty days would be of practically the same weight as when he started,—if he be a man of normal weight.

We will suppose that from his work he lost a pound a day and made up a pound each day from food. If that premise proved to be true the man in sixty days' time would make sixty pounds of tissue to replace what had been lost, and this would be done on Grape-Nuts and milk with half the number of calories of butter, upon which no one can sustain life.

Therefore, we have reason to believe that our contention is right that concentrated food like Grape-Nuts, which is partly digested and ready for easy assimilation by the body, presents more nourishment that the system will absorb than many other forms of food, and we will further say that in cases of digestive troubles where meat, white bread and oats cannot be digested, that Grape-Nuts and milk contain more nourishment that the system will absorb than many pounds of these other foods.

Distortion No. 3 charges that our testimonials were practically all paid for and re-written in Battle Creek.

These testimonials were demanded by the opposing lawyers. Naturally this demand was refused, for they are held in vaults and kept safe to prove the truth, and are not to be delivered up on demand of enemies.

Testimony at the trial brought out the fact that we never printed a single testimonial that we did not have the genuine letter back of. Many of these letters came spontaneously. A record was kept of twelve hundred and four (1204) letters received in one month from people who wrote that they had either entirely recovered their health or been benefited by following our suggestions on food and beverages.

On three or four occasions in the past ten or twelve years we printed broadcast in papers offers of prizes to users of Postum and Grape-Nuts,—two hundred $1.00 prizes, one hundred $2.00, twenty of $5.00 and five of $10.00 each,—stating that each must be an honest letter with name and address. We agreed not to publish names, but to furnish them to enquirers by letter. These letter writers very generally answered those who wrote to them, and verified the truth of the statements.

Under this agreement not to publish names literally scores of letters came from doctors. We kept our word and neither printed their names or surrendered the letters.

Right here notice an "imitation spasm." The "Weekly" says: "Post got those testimonials by advertising for them. In New York he used for that purpose the New York Magazine of ——— whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary for fraudulent use of the mails. For example, Post announced in that magazine in 1907, etc.," (then follows our prize competition).

We used nearly all of the papers and magazines in New York and the rest of America, but the sensational writer gives the impression to his readers that the only magazine we used was one "whose editor is now in the Federal Penitentiary," etc., something that we know nothing of the truth of now, and never did. Space was bought in the magazine spoken of on a business basis for the reason that it went to a good class of readers. The incident seems to have furnished an opportunity for a designing writer to deceive his readers.

We look upon honest human testimony from men and women as to the means by which they recovered health as of tremendous value to those in search of it. Our business has been conducted from the very first day upon lines of strict integrity and we never yet have published a false testimonial of human experience. Many of these letters covered numerous sheets; some, if printed, would spread over half a page of newspaper. If we would attempt to print one such letter in every one of the thousands of papers and magazines we use, the cost for printing that one letter would run into many thousands of dollars.

We boil down these letters exactly as a newspaper writer boils his news,—sticking sacredly to the important facts and eliminating details about the family and other unimportant matters. This work of boiling down, or editing, is done honestly, and with a full knowledge of our responsibility, but notice the art of the "twister" in the way he presents to his readers this matter of testimonials.

Distortion No. 4. This is a bad one. It reads as follows: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to a testimonial was produced in Court by Colliers and turned out to be a poor old brokendown homeopath, who is now working in a printing establishment. He received ten dollars ($10.00) for writing his testimonial."

We will wager ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00) with any investigator that we have, subject to inspection of any fair committee, upwards of three hundred (300) communications from physicians, many of them expressing the highest commendation of our products, but these will not now or ever be turned over to the publisher for his use.

Notice the statement in this charge: "The only famous physician whose name was signed to Postum testimonial, etc."

The truth is, this Dr. Underwood was one of a great many physicians who have not only written commendatory words about the value of our foods, but every now and then some physician writes an article on coffee or on food, and sends it to us with a suggestion of compensation for his time and medical knowledge. Previous to the time when we employed physicians in our own business, we occasionally employed a doctor to write an article on coffee, always insisting that the article be an honest expression of his opinion and research.

The "Weekly" hunted up this physician, and because he seemed to be poor, and as it says, "brokendown," had him brought to Court to be exposed before a jury as the "only physician that had ever endorsed Grape-Nuts," but much to the chagrin of the "Weekly," when our attorneys asked him if the article he wrote about coffee was true he replied, "yes."

Statement No. 5 reads: "The health officers of Mich., Maine, Penn., New Hamp., and other states in their official bulletins have for years been denouncing as preposterous and fraudulent the claims made by the Postum Cereal Company." We do not recall any criticism except from Mich., Penn., Maine and S. Dakota.

The average reader might think that the opinions expressed by the State Officials are always correct, but that conclusion is not borne out by facts.

As an illustration: About thirteen years ago the Dairy and Food Commission of Michigan for some personal reason printed a severe criticism on us for making Postum of Barley (according to his official chemist) at market price and selling too high. He was shown there was never a grain of barley used in Postum. His report was false and misleading. The governor dismissed him.

We believe that most of the state officials are honest, and on the other hand we are firmly convinced that some of their conclusions cannot be substantiated by facts in scientific research.

They never criticize the purity of our foods, for so much we are thankful.

If our conclusions in regard to its being a brain food differ from theirs, and we are both honest, they have rather the advantage, because under the law they can order us to eliminate from the package any statement if it disagrees with their opinion. Otherwise they would harass grocers.

Spasm No. 6 says: "The most dangerous thing in the world for one threatened with appendicitis is to eat any food whatever. Notwithstanding he knew that danger, C. W. Post advertised Grape-Nuts at fifteen cents a package for those so threatened."

This is intended to muddle the reader into believing that we put out Grape-Nuts as a cure for appendicitis.

Mr. Post, himself, has had probably as wide experience as any other man in America in the study and observation of food as related to the digestive organs, and we proved in Court by the physicians and surgeons on the witness stand that the predominating cause of appendicitis is undigested food, and that it is necessary to quit eating food, and when the body requires food again, use a pre-digested food, or at least one easy of digestion.

Dr. Ochsner in his work on appendicitis refers directly to the use of the well-known pre-digested foods that can be obtained on the market. He also brought out the interesting fact that in "after treatment" it is advantageous to take on a pre-digested food.

The price of the package (referred to by the weekly) is not known by us to have any relation to the question.

Our advice to stop using indigestible food in bowel troubles and to use Grape-Nuts food has been a great blessing to tens of thousands of people, and we hope will continue to bless a good many more in the succeeding years.

No. 7 is a live wire. It refers to C. W. Post and his studies and experience in "Suggestive Therapeutics," or "Mental Healing" which further lead to a most careful and systematic study of the effect of the mind on the digestive and other organs of the body.

He attended clinics in Europe and fitted himself for a future career in which he has become known as one of the food experts of the world, fitted to judge both from the material as well as the mental side of the question.

For about eight years previous to 1891 he was an invalid. In that year, after being under the care of several well-known physicians, he was quickly healed, by what to him was a curious and not well-understood method. Sufficient to say he became a well man, weighing about 185 pounds.

This experience challenged his investigation into causes of disease and their amelioration. Those studies and experiences developed a very profound reverence for a Supreme Power which directly operates upon the human being, and this reverence for the Infinite became to him a form of religion which included honesty of purpose towards his fellow-man. A statement which will be indorsed by everyone who knows him closely.

He will make a public announcement in detail of these facts, and the Postum Company will cause that statement to be published in newspapers and magazines in due time. We suggest the reader look for it.

Prevarication No. 8. "Post spends nearly a million a year in advertising and relies on that to keep out of the newspapers the dangerous nature of the fraud he is perpetrating on the public."

The Postum Company does pay out upwards of a million a year for trade announcements. Newspaper men believe our statements truthful or they would not print them. Large numbers of newspaper men use our products.

They are capable of telling the public whether or not we "bribe" them.

It may have escaped notice that we did not "bribe" that particular weekly.

No. 9 states that the amount of the verdict will "be devoted by the 'weekly' to exposing fraud."

This is almost real humor.

We have two suits pending against the "weekly," total, $500,000.00.

We haven't "devoted" the sum to any particular purpose yet.

Item 10 is a "discovery" that wheat bran is a part of Postum.

But the criticism neglected to mention that for years every Postum package announced in plain type that the outer covering of wheat (bran), made part of the beverage.

They ignorantly fell into a trap here, not knowing enough of food value to know that "Taka-Diastase" the article used by physicians the world over for "starch indigestion" is made from "wheat bran."

So we use that part of the wheat berry because it contains the element needed to develop the valuable diastase in manufacture. Good Postum is impossible without this part.

These self-appointed critics do make some laughable blunders through ignorance, but—be patient.

Item 11 is an illustration of the squirming and twisting of the sensational writer delivering distorted matter to his readers.

While on the witness stand Mr. Post testified to his studies in Anatomy, Physiology, Dietetics and Psychology,—all relating to the preparation and digestion of food. Asked to name authorities studied he mentioned six or eight from memory, and commented on some clinical experience covering several years in annual journeys to Europe.

Now notice the distortion. (Copy from the printed criticism.)

"He (Post) pointed out a pile of books in possession of his attorneys as the very ones he had read."

(Notice,—"the very ones he had read," leading the reader to believe that they were the only ones.)

"Did you consult the books from these editions?" was asked.

"From those and various editions," answered Post.

The attorney "picked up book after book from the pile and showed the title pages to the jury,—all except two had been published since 1905."

This is an example of distortion and false coloring to produce an unfavorable impression.

The facts are Mr. Post purposely introduced the latest editions that could be obtained of prominent authorities to prove by them the truth of his statements regarding appendicitis and the analysis of brain, also the latest conclusions in regard to the action of the digestive organs. These works are:

Human Physiology, by Raymond.
Physiological Chemistry, by Simon.
Digestive Glands, by Pawlow.
Hand Book of Appendicitis, by Ochsner.
Physiological Chemistry, by Hammarsten.
Biochemic System of Medicine, by Carey.

The "Weekly" carefully eliminates from its printed account testimony regarding the years of research and study by Mr. Post in fitting himself for his work, and would lead the reader of the distorted article to believe that his education began since 1905.

Distortion No. 12 reports Mr. Post as a "dodging witness."

His eye is not of the shifty kind observed in the head of one of his chief critics. On the witness stand Mr. Post looks quietly but very steadily straight into the eyes of the haggling, twisting lawyer, trying by all his art to ask double-barreled questions and bull-doze and confuse a witness.

The "dodging" it seems consisted of replying, "I don't know."

Opposing counsel holds a book in his hand while he queries,—

'I want to know if there is a single thing in your whole book here that suggests any particular kind of food." Then followed some discussion between attorneys.

When Mr. Post was allowed to reply, he said, "I don't know until I read the book over to see."

This book, it turns out, was written by Mr. Post seventeen years ago and probably has not been read carefully by him in the last fifteen years. It would require a remarkable memory to instantly say "yes" or "no" as to what a book of 147 pages did or did not contain, without reading it over,—but such conservative and well balanced answers are construed by sensation seekers to be "dodging."

The attorney sought by every art to impress the Jury with the fact that Mr. Post's belief in the power of Mind in relation to the body branded him as unreliable and worse.

The following is quoted from one of the questions:—

(The lawyer reading from the book.)

"The writer of these pages desires to say nothing of himself other than as a simple instrument through which the Divine Principle chooses to manifest itself by precept and example.

"Skill in mental practice is gained in the same way as skill in any department of science—by observation, study, experience and the ability to evolve correct conclusions.

"Read carefully, thoughtfully no more than twenty pages daily. Afterward seek an easy position where you will not be disturbed. Relax every muscle. Close your eyes, and go into the silence where mind is plastic to the breathings of spirit and where God talks to the Son. The thoughts from Divine Universal Mind come as winged angels and endow you with a healing power. If you go into the silence humble and trusting, you will come out enriched and greatly strengthened in body by contact even for a short time with the Father of all life and all power. You will feel refreshed in every way and food taken will digest readily as the stomach works smoothly when under the influence of a Higher Power."

"I ask you if you did not write that, and if you did not believe it when you wrote it."

For a moment the Court Room was in absolute silence.

Mr. Post slowly leaned forward over the rail, pointed his finger at the Atty's face to emphasize his reply and with eyes that caused those of the Attorney to drop he said, "Yes, I am proud to say I did."

It may be remembered that we were first attacked and have since defended ourselves by placing facts before that great jury---The Public.

A good "scrap" is more or less comforting now and then, if you know you are right.

In the case lately tried, an appeal has been taken to the higher courts. We have unbounded faith in the ultimate decision of our American Tribunals.

Our suits against the "weekly" have not yet been tried. They are for libel and $500,000.00 is asked as damages, and may the right man win.

After all the smoke of legal battle blows away, the facts will stand out clearly and never be forgotten that Postum, Grape Nuts, and Post Toasties are perfectly pure, have done good honest service to humanity for years, the testimonials are real and truthful and the business conducted on the highest plane of commercial integrity.

MOTHERS OF THEN AND NOW

Conditions Are Only Different, No Matter What Sentimental Writers May Assert.

The "popular" writer who bewails what he assumes to be the fact that the "old-fashioned" mother is no more is liable to defeat his own purpose if that be inculcating in children the highest possible regard for their parents. It is a danger which even the quantitative theory of literature or space rates cannot justify.

The mother of the past, of course, was different from the mother of the present, as different on the whole as the conditions of life then and now, but since her daughter is the mother of the present there must be some points of similarity. All the good in our mothers and grandmothers certainly could not have vanished. It will be paying scant tribute to those dear, good women who have laid down their precepts and examples and passed on to say so. And, of course, this writer does not mean to do that, yet he comes very near doing what he does not intend.

The fallacy of the whole sentimental notion that because things and people are not like they used to be they are not as good, lies in the patent fact that they cannot be alike, and if they were it would simply be because of the present generation being so much inferior to the past that it was unable to do no more than stand still.

TRIPLE LYNCHING BY MASKED MEN

They Storm the Jail at Shelbyville, Ky.

TWO HANGED AND ONE IS SHOT.

All the Men Lynched Were Negroes, One Of Whom Had Been Sentenced To Hang For the Murder Of a Negro Woman, and the Other Two Were Charged With Insulting White Women—Story Told By Jailer's Deputy.

Shelbyville, Ky. (Special).—Fifty masked men early Sunday stormed the Shelby county jail, seized and lynched three negroes, two of whom were charged with insulting white women, while the third was sentenced to hang for the murder of a negro woman.

The bodies of two of the negroes, Gene Marshall and Wade Patterson, were found later, but that of the third, James West, is still unaccounted for, although he was seen in the hands of the mob with a rope about his neck.

According to Ernest Hornback, deputy jailer, the mob within an hour and a quarter surrounded the jail, broke down a door and took the three negroes away, leaving 14 others in the same cell from which the three were taken.

The two bodies recovered were found about a quarter of a mile apart. That of Marshall was found hanging to a bridge over the Emminance pike, near the jail, while that of Patterson was found in Cedar Creek. Patterson, it is said, attempted to escape from the mob, and was shot. His body was thrown into the creek.

According to Deputy Jailer Hornback, Jailer Edward Thompson hid the jail keys when the mob appeared and later when the mob entered Hornback let the men into the jail edifice.

"They said there were 'three niggers we're going to get or else blow the jail up,'" Hornback said. "They kept yelling for the dynamite, while some of the mob started to beat on the cell locks with a sledge hammer. About 12 men had their guns pointed at me, demanding the keys. I insisted I did not know where they were. Finally, they broke the cell door open and took out West, Marshall and Patterson."

Patterson, it was charged, insulted two white women during the holidays and knocked both of them down. West's alleged crime was more recent and it is said that he had often been seen throwing kisses at white women. He was a chauffeur. Marshall was sentenced to hang for beheading a negro woman more than a year ago.

FOOD PRICES WILL DROP.

Cold Storage Stuff To Be Least Cost On Market.

Chicago, Ill.—Hundreds of millions of pounds of cold storage butter, eggs, cheese and poultry, some of it as much as five years old, are about to be thrown on the market and sacrificed at whatever price they will bring, as the result of the collapse within the last few days of the Food Trust, which by steady aggressions during the past half decade has piled prices of provisions up to their present exorbitant figures.

The smash, it was predicted Sunday, will be one of the most spectacular for a long period of time. Prices, now 33 1-3 per cent. higher than they ought to be, are about to drop in a sudden slump to their normal levels. Chicago, as the center of the cold storage industry of the country, is to be the vortex of the wholesale unloading. Failures among commission men and a general financial stringency in the butter, egg and poultry trades are effects, it was stated, that are likely to follow.

Although the collapse of the "corner" is likely to be felt most keenly by the cold storage men of Chicago, the pinch will be felt in many of the important shipping centers of the East and Middle West. Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Minneapolis were spoken of today as the points where most of the unloading probably would be done.

Saved From Lynching.

Dothan, Ala. (Special).—Joel Aycock and Alto Barefoot, two white farmers of Geneva county, who were arrested Thursday on the charge of having assaulted the 15-year-old wife of a 17-year-old Geneva county boy, were Sunday removed from the county jail here on the order of Judge Pearce, to prevent a possible lynching.

Boy Falls Sixty Feet.

Ithaca, N. Y. (Special).—Howard Mente, a 15-year-old boy, slipped from a path along Cascadilla Gorge and fell 60 feet to the creek below. He had been carrying laundry bags and they fell under him breaking the fall sufficiently so as to save him from death. A party of Cornell students secured a rope which was lowered into the gorge and three of them made the perilous descent along the side of the cliffs. Mente was hoisted back to safety and hurried to the hospital. His condition is critical.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

R. G. Dun & Company's Weekly Review of Trade says:

There is little or no change in the state of the larger trades. Contraction of output continues in iron and steel, but the outlook for the new year is regarded as encouraging.

In the month of December, 27 additional furnaces were blown out and the daily rate of production fell from 63,659 to 57,252 tons, or nearly 28,000 tons less than in the corresponding period of 1909.

Retailers of dry goods the country over are pushing sales of white goods and domestics, while jobbers are busy bringing out their new lines of spring goods for house display. Buyers are showing increased activity in the markets. There has been a little more trading in specialties, wash goods and ginghams and somewhat greater interest in early showings of blankets and napped goods, but drills and sheetings have ruled quiet.

The footwear market continues quiet and unchanged. New England producers have but a small reserve for spring cutting, but buyers generally are known to be carrying meager stocks and an improved business is looked for by the latter end of the current month. There is a somewhat firmer tone to the market on domestic hides and this is especially noticeable in cow and bull hides.

ARE YOUR KIDNEYS WELL?

The kidney secretions tell if disease is lurking in the system. Too frequent or scanty urination, discolored urine, lack of control at night tell of disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Fred A. Campbell, Atlantic Ave., Boothbay Harbor, Me., says: "I cannot describe the awful pain I endured. The kidneys were in terrible condition; pain in voiding urine was intense, and often I passed blood. For weeks I was laid up in bed. Doan's Kidney Pills permanently cured me after I had doctored without relief."

SKIN TORTURED BABIES SLEEP AND MOTHERS REST

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap, followed by a gentle anointing with Cuticura ointment, is generally sufficient to afford immediate comfort in the most distressing forms of itching, burning and scaly eczemas, rashes, irritations and inflammations of infants and children, permit sleep for child and rest for parent, and point to permanent relief, when other methods fail. Peace falls upon distracted households when these pure, sweet and gentle emollients enter. No other treatment costs so little and does so much for skin sufferers, from infancy to age. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, for free 32-page book on the care and treatment of skin and scalp troubles.

Children's Food.

Certain little suggestions are always to be followed when planning the diet of the little ones. To keep healthy little stomachs in the nursery never serve hot stewed fruit to the children Plenty of stewed fruit and baked apples they should eat, but they must invariably be cooked the day before and dished up cold. The nursery potatoes should always be baked or boiled in their jackets. Stewed and fried potatoes or potatoes boiled without their skins supply starch, with a loss of all the wholesome potash salts that the skin gives out during the process of cooking into the white part of the vegetable.

Needed Assistance.

A poor old cast-down hobo started to knock the paint off of a back door the other morning, and when he tearfully told the lady who appeared that he had a sick wife at home and a dozen hungry kids, she gave him a couple of home-made biscuits. Daintily the hobo handled them, and once more he glanced up wistfully.

"What's the matter," indignantly demanded the housewife, "aren't you satisfied with the biscuits?"

"Yes, dear lady," replied the trampful one, "but I thought perhaps you would be so kind as to loan me a nutcracker for a few minutes."

The Inevitable.

"You don't resent that successful candidate's proud and haughty manner?"

"Nope," rejoined Farmer Corntossel. "The fact that he's in politics is all the guarantee I want that sooner or later he'll meet with some kind of a terrible finish."

TAKE A LESSON FROM VENUS

Moral That Writer Has Drawn Is Not Without Some Points of Worthiness.

Miss Venus is a lovely girl; not one time has she muttered; against her pale, illumined life not one word has she uttered. Just think, she's been without her arms for many dusty ages, and yet she never drops the brine or rants in hopeless rages. She has to stand a bunch of guff from art bugs down to draymen, and yet she never once comes back and grills the heathen layman. When some low-brow of brutal mien starts merrily to panning and says her face is worse than wood and that her hair needs canning, or that he has a waitress friend who jerks a coffee jigger could give her many, many leagues and beat her out on figger, she never even looks at him, that rank untutored sinner, but holds her tongue and pedestal, O, Venus is a winner. She's on the job both day and night, she hears man knock or flatter and women not of classic mold get madder than a hatter. She suffers long and quietly with calm and placid manner; in cold no mits to reach a quilt, in heat, no hands to fan her. She is a lesson in herself—a fruit for daily picking. Just spare the world your trouble tales and scratch the useless kicking.—G. S., in Chicago Tribune.

A Lesson for Diplomats.

Elihu Root, at the luncheon in Providence preceding the dedication of the John Hay Memorial library at Brown university, said of John Hay:

"His diplomacy was gracious, and it was prudent as well. I remember, in an argument about a certain international complication, how very warmly and aptly he once insisted on prudence.

"It was the Christmas season, and he said that we might learn a lesson from a little girl who was naughty in the early part of December.

"'Dear me,' her mother said, 'If you're going to be naughty I'm very much afraid Santa Claus won't bring you any presents.'

"The little girl frowned.

"'Well,' she whispered, 'you needn't say it so near the chimney!'"

A Deadly Error.

Dr. W. B. Cannon of Harvard, discussing anti-vivisection literature at a dinner in New York, said with a smile:

"This literature, in part at least, is as flagrantly erroneous as the medical department conducted by a young college girl in a weekly paper. A sample reply in this department ran:

"'Bereaved.—The reply given last week was a mistake. It should have been ten drops of laudanum, not teacups of laudanum. Yes, we advocate cremation rather than the old-fashioned burial.'"

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as without fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Prest., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN ORDINANCE.—

Be it ordained by the Town Council of the Borough of Centre Hall, Centre County, Pennsylvania, and it is hereby ordained by the authority of the same.

SECTION I. Whenever any householder knows that any person within his family or household has a communicable disease, dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately report the same to the Board of Health.

The following diseases require absolute quarantine: bubonic plague, cholera, leprosy, smallpox, and yellow fever, and quarantine shall continue until raised by an authorized agent of the Board of Health.

Absolute quarantine includes: first, absolute prohibition of entrance to or exit from a building or conveyance, except by officers or attendants authorized by the health authorities, and the placing of guards, if necessary, to enforce this prohibition; second, the posting of a warning placard stating the name of the disease in a conspicuous place or places on the outside of the building or conveyance; third, the prohibition of the passing out of any object or material from the quarantined home or conveyance; fourth, provision for conveying the necessaries of life, under certain restrictions, to those in quarantine.

The following diseases require modified quarantine: epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, diphtheria, measles, German measles, whooping-cough, scarlet fever, and relapsing fever.

Modified quarantine includes: first, prohibition of entrance and exit, as in absolute quarantine, except against certain members of the family authorized by the health authorities to pass in and out under certain definite restrictions; second, the placing of a placard as before; third, isolation of patient and attendant; fourth, prohibition of the carrying out of any object or material, unless the same shall have been thoroughly disinfected.

Failure to observe the rules of modified quarantine will result in an absolute quarantine, over the whole household during the duration of quarantine.

The period of quarantine in cases of diphtheria shall be twenty-one days from onset; of scarlet fever, thirty days from onset; but no case shall under any circumstances be released until the physician has certified in writing that desquamation has entirely ceased and discharging ears have healed; of small-pox, thirty days from onset; to which shall be added in each case such additional time as may be necessary in the opinion of the attending physician for the complete recovery of the patient.

SECTION II. No child or other person suffering from chickenpox or mumps or residing in the same premises with any persons suffering therefrom, shall be permitted to attend any public, private, parochial, Sunday, or other school, and the teachers of all public schools and the principals, superintendents, and teachers, or other persons in charge of private, parochial, Sunday, or other similar schools are hereby required to exclude any and all such children and persons from said schools, such exclusion to continue during a quarantine period of twenty-one days and until the said quarantine is removed and the premises disinfected.

SECTION III. The head of a family occupying any house, apartment, or premises, or the proprietor of any hotel, boarding, lodging or tenement house, upon or near which a placard or placards are placed, shall not remove, deface, cover up or destroy such placard or placards, nor shall other persons unauthorized by the Board of Health, remove, deface, cover up or destroy such placard or placards, and if through accident, atmospheric conditions, or other agencies, said placard or placards are destroyed, removed, or defaced, the householder or proprietor shall at once notify the Board of Health of the fact.

SECTION IV. Upon the removal to a hospital or other place, or upon the discharge by recovery or death of any person or persons who have suffered from anthrax, bubonic plague, epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis (spotted fever), cholera, diphtheria, measles, mumps, scarlet fever, small-pox, typhus fever, leprosy, or tuberculosis, the premises where said disease existed, together with the bedding, clothing and other articles exposed to infection shall be disinfected by the Board of Health.

SECTION V. All physicians practicing within the limits of the borough of Centre Hall shall make an immediate report of every case occurring in their practice of diseases specified in these rules and regulations, and all other communicable diseases dangerous to the public health.

SECTION VI. In cases not mentioned above the rules and regulations of the State Department of Health, so far as they apply to boroughs, shall be followed.

SECTION VII. The penalties for the violation of these rules and regulations shall be such as are provided for by the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordained and enacted into an ordinance this sixth day of January, A. D., 1911.

THE FELLOW WHO REFERRED to life insurance as a gambling game may have had good intentions, but he had bad judgment. It is the one business transaction which is not a gamble. Life insurance is intended primarily to offset as far as possible the loss to the world by reason of the death of a producer. And death is a sure thing. It is the one safe bet. That is why it will pay you to anticipate the inevitable. It is well known that a dead man's salary continues, but not in a satisfactory manner. It is drawn by the other fellow. There is such a thing as arranging so that your widow can draw yours. We can show you. That is why we ought to get together. We also have some easy chairs for old age. They are called Endowments.
